Hague, Aug. 19.

THE Affairs of Poland are more and more embroiled, ſo that it is very doubtful whether the King will be able to carry his Point. The Marquis de Monti, Ambaſſador of France, begins to thwart that Prince's Deſigns with a bare Face; and appears to have an Underſtanding with ſeveral Grandees of the firſt Rank, who muſt conſequently be in the Intereſt of King Staniſlaus. The late Renewing of the ſtrict Alliance and intimate Friendſhip between King Auguſtus and his Pruſſian Majeſty, does the former no Manner of Service among his Subjects of Poland, who are ſtrangely incenſed againſt it; inſomuch that hardly a Day paſſes without ſome bitter Sarcaſms being diſperſed upon it, and more than once they were found in the King's Antichamber, though all mention of his Majeſty's Deſigns, or of a future Election, is forbid upon the ſevereſt Penalties. For the Reſt, the King of Poland is ſo well recovered of the Maladies that have long infeſted him, and his Health ſeems now to be eſtabliſhed upon ſo good a Foundation, that the Vacancy of the Throne ſeems thereby to be greatly poſtponed.

Amſterdam, Aug. 23. By Letters from Algiers, bearing Date, July 19. We learn, that the preceding Day entred that Port three Corſairs from the Coaſts of Galicia, from whence they brought off 4 Men, 2 old Women, 3 young Girls, and 2 Children. Theſe Advices add, that it was from Smyrna, and not from Alexandria, as was reported, that the Engliſh Ship came with a Baſhaw ſent to remove the Dey: Which Ship being again driven in there by a Tempeſt, the Maſter refuſed to return to Smyrna with the diſappointed Baſhaw; whereupon the Dey having generouſly preſented the ſaid Maſter with 500 Dollars, and a like Sum to the Baſhaw his Paſſenger, he had the Baſhaw put aboard a French Veſſel, with whoſe Patron he agreed for 3000 Dollars to carry him to Smyrna, with his Equipage and Followers, not one of which was ſuffered to ſet Foot on Shore, excepting only ſome few of his Turks, who were diſpoſed to quit his Service, in order to ſettle at Algiers.

Burlington, November 10.

On Friday laſt, at our Supream Court, came on the Tryal of James Burnſide, an Iriſhman, for a Rape on the Body of Anne Eaſtworthy, Widow of —— Eaſtworthy.

The ſaid Anne Eaſtworthy being brought into Court in a Chair, depos'd, That going from Philadelphia in a Boat to A. Goforth's Plantation, ſhe enquir'd for ſome Spinning; that the ſaid James Burnſide being in the Boat with her and ſeveral others, told her, He could help her to half a Year's Work: That afterwards landing on the Jerſey Shore, near Ancocus, about Duſk, ſhe went with him in Hopes to get Work; but he led her thro' ſeveral Woods and Fields, and at laſt into a Cow-Pen; that upon her telling him, She would make him Amends if he could aſſiſt her, he told her, He deſir'd Nothing but a Night's Lodging, which, as ſhe ſaid, very much ſurpriz'd her; and thereupon he took her in his Arms, and —— [N. B. We omit thoſe Expreſſions which, tho' uſed in open Court, we apprehend may be offenſive to the Ear of a modeſt Reader.] That ſhe ſtruggled, reſiſted, and cry'd out bitterly, begging him for Chriſt's ſake not to abuſe her, but rather to kill her, ſaying, For Chriſt's ſake, Man, don't abuſe me thus, but rather kill me; that after he had raviſh'd her, they walk'd on for ſome Time, ſhe being, as ſhe ſaid, in a miſerable Condition, and in Fear of her Life, he asked her, Whether ſhe would tell of it or no, and ſhe ſaying No, he —— raviſh'd her again; That then they walk'd on further till they came to a Houſe, where the Good Man took her in.

The ſaid Perſon depos'd, that ſhe came to his Houſe about the ſame Time before depos'd, in a ſeeming weak Condition; that ſhe remained in his Houſe Two Weeks and upwards, weak and languiſhing. It was alſo ſworn, that the ſaid James Burnſide offer'd to pay for her Keeping, and to make it up with her.

The Priſoner made little Defence himſelf; but having Counſel allow'd by the Lenity of the Court, ſeveral Witneſſes were call'd, particularly Mr. E. R. Price, who depos'd, that ſome Years ſince, when he was Deputy to the Attorney-General, the ſaid Anne Eaſtworthy had ſwore a Rape againſt one Hill at Salem; that ſhe and her Husband being bound to proſecute, or appear as Evidences, abſconded and forfeited their Recognizances, upon which the Grand Jury brought in the Bill Ignoramus.

Titan Leeds, Eſq; Sheriff, depos'd, that having a Writ for the ſaid Anne Eaſtworthy, he found her in Bed; That ſeveral Perſons being in the Room, Diſcourſe began about the aforeſaid Rape, and the ſaid Anne declar'd, That if the aforeſaid Burnſide would come and marry her in the Condition ſhe was in, he ſhould not be hang'd; or Words to that Purpoſe.

This was confirm'd by another Evidence; and the Fellow had ſeveral appear'd to his Reputation, particularly his Maſter, who gave him the Character of an honeſt, faithful, civil Fellow; and another Evidence, who told the Court bluntly, If they wanted to be inform'd further, they might ask the Priſoner's greateſt Enemy in Court, who had ſeveral Daughters with whom he us'd to keep Company.

The Counſel offer'd to prove that the ſaid Anne Eaſtworthy had been an infamous Woman; but that not being allow'd by the Court, after a Tryal of about four Hours, the Jury brought him in Guilty. Death.

The next Day the Priſoner being brought into Court to receive Sentence, his Counſel offer'd ſeveral Arguments in Arreſt of Judgment, and particularly that the Indictment was inſufficient, by Reaſon, that after the Word Raviſh, the Words, againſt her Will were left out; whereupon it was order'd, that the Pleadings on both Sides ſhould be put off till next Court, and the Priſoner was remanded back again, and order'd to be put in Irons.

Advertiſements.

RAN away from David Davies of Goſhen, in the County of Cheſter, on the 6th of this Inſtant, a Servant Man, named George Curren, aged about Twenty-one. He is an Iriſhman, of a middle Stature, pale Complexion, pretty much Pockfretten, ſhort black Hair, ſometimes wears a light-coloured ſtrait Wigg; at other times a knit Cap; he has a good Felt Hat, a dark brown Frize Coat, and an old Sheep-ruſſet Waſtcoat, old dark coloured Breeches, with a great deal of Pitch on them, and a good ſtrip'd Pair under them; alſo a ſtrip'd Shirt, dark brown Stockings, and old Shoes. Whoſoever will ſecure the ſaid Runaway, and give Information to his Maſter, ſo that he may have him again, ſhall have Twenty Shillings Reward, and all reaſonable Charges, paid by me David Davies.

WHereas William Bradford, of New-York, Printer, has baſely and villanouſly forged an Almanack in my Name, which is not only a conſiderable Damage to me and my Printer, but alſo an Impoſition upon the Publick; I hereby declare the ſaid Almanack is a baſe and ſcandalous Counterfeit, printed without my Conſent or Knowledge; and earneſtly requeſt all that uſe to buy Almanacks for the Sake of mine or my Father's Calculations to diſcourage ſuch a deteſtable Piece of Villany: And they may be aſſur'd I will take the moſt proper Methods to proſecute the ſaid Bradford, in Order to hinder ſuch Male-Practices for the future. As Witneſs my Hand,

Burlington Nov. 3. 1729. TITAN LEEDS.

N. B. The Genuine Leeds's Almanacks are to be had of David Harry, at the late Houſe of Samuel Keimer, and of William Heurtin, Goldſmith, in New-York.

WHereas Titan Leeds has been pleaſed to ſend forth a ſcandalous Advertiſement againſt William Bradford, ſaying, He has forged an Almanack in my (Titan Leeds) Name, which is a Damage to me, and an Impoſition upon the Publick.

Theſe are therefore to inform all Perſons, That the above Aſſertion of Titan Leeds is a baſe and notorious Falſhood; for altho' his Almanack is Re-printed, upon peruſal we find it to be the ſame with that which is ſaid to be printed at Philadelphia (the Errors in the firſt Impreſſion excepted) and it is but Juſtice to the Buyers that the Errors therein ſhould be corrected, the Time of holding Courts in New-York and New-Jerſey being all wrong. And whether W. Bradford Re-printed ſaid Almanack or not, he claims a Property in it, becauſe about five Years ago he agreed with Titan for his Copy ſo long as W. B. liv'd, for a certain Sum of Money, (which Agreement he has under Titan's Hand) and paid him 20 l. in Part, and the Remainder he ſent in 3 Weeks after he wrote for it. But in the interim the famous Sam. Keimer ſteps in and offers Titan more Money for it, Titan accepts, and ſells it a ſecond Time. When William Bradford told Titan he would ſue him for the Non-performance of his Agreement, Titan writes ſeveral Letters, praying W. B. not to ſue him, becauſe it would Ruin him, and he would pay back the Money; and by the Intreaty of ſome Friends W. B. did forbear to ſue him, or reprint the Almanack, altho' (as he told Titan) he claimed a Property in it.

Upon the ſaid Bradford's being thus diſappointed, Felix Leeds (Titan's Brother) publiſhes an Almanack; No ſooner came this forth but Titan and Sam. Keimer ſend out their Advertiſements, and tell the World, That Felix could not write an Almanack, That it was a Counterfeit, a Cheat and Impoſition upon the Publick; and this baſe and abuſive Method they continued Year after Year without any Provocation, and W. and A. Bradford lay under their Scandals without Interruption. This Year his Almanack is Re-printed, and he ſays W. B. has done it, but perhaps he may find himſelf miſtaken, altho' he claims a Property in it. And perhaps it will be Re-printed until ſuch Time as Titan and Keimer make Satisfaction for the Money, and the groſs Lies and Abuſes they have caſt upon the ſaid Wm. and Andrew Bradford, as well as for Keimer's Re-printing ſeveral Books upon them, to their Damage of above 200 l. And it's but a juſt Reprizal if they Re-print upon him.

And Friend Titan is hereby advertiſed, That he may expect to be handled in another Manner than this Advertiſement, for his ſo free Charges of Villany, Forgery, Counterfeit, &c.
